Your Medicare Coverage and Doctor Are in Jeopardy

Doctors want to take care of their Medicare patients, but the government is forcing doctors to quit treating Medicare patients.

It is time to demand that Congress fix the flawed Medicare program. If Congress does not take drastic steps to fix the Medicare payment system, you may not have a doctor that “you choose” in charge of your medical care.

For the past five years, the cost of running a doctor's office has increased dramatically. At the same time, what the government pays your doctor to care for Medicare patients has not kept pace. In January, doctors' payments were supposed to be cut another 10 percent. The cut was postponed until June. Over the next decade, doctors face cuts of up to 40 percent.

Take Action Today.

Doctors and patients must unite. We must work together and hold Congress accountable. We must demand that Congress fix the flawed Medicare system so doctors can continue to take care of their Medicare patients.

Please join your doctor today. Call your representative in Congress and demand he or she take these actions:

- Fix the flawed Medicare funding formula, and
- Develop a payment system that ensures seniors get affordable and high-quality care at their convenience.
